STOCKTON INFRARED THERMOGRAPHIC SERVICES, INC.
ANNOUNCES THE APPOINTMENT OF NEW MARKETING DIRECTOR

Randleman, NC-Stockton Infrared Thermographic Services, Inc. (SITS) announces the appointment of Cindy Hawks, as Marketing Director. SITS is an international infrared testing company founded in 1989 and based in Randleman, NC.

Stockton Infrared Thermographic Services, Inc. provides state-of-the-art infrared thermographic testing services to top-500 companies and government agencies in the US, Canada, Central and South America. SITS is divided in four business units: the Aerial Infrared division (AITscan™), the Electrical/Mechanical P/PM division (ElectriSCAN™), the Building division (BuildSCAN™) and the Infrared Research and Development division (ResearchIR™). Stockton provides a combination of services unparalleled in the industry provided by professionals with unmatched experience.

President Greg Stockton said “With four divisions of services - all with different sets of client bases, Cindy will have her hands full.” The addition of a Marketing Director is an indication of the positive growth already experienced and anticipated for the future.

Cindy Hawks, a graduate of UNC-Chapel Hill, comes to Stockton with 16 years of client service, sales and marketing management experience. “I’m very excited about this company and this opportunity; this is a compelling industry with much room for future growth. Stockton is the most diverse provider of Infrared Thermography Services in the business,” states Mrs. Hawks, “and I’m honored to join the team”.
